About Arthur Erickson Place

Commissioned by forestry giant Macmillan Bloedel, then Canada's largest company, 1075 West Georgia joined a growing number of office buildings built during a time of rapid expansion of business in Vancouver. Erickson's commission for the project brought further credibility to forward-thinking architects and designers in the city.

Winner of the Massey Medal for Architecture in 1970, Arthur Erickson Place highlights several Erickson's design signature. His views that concrete is the new marble, and that natural light is a critical design element are expressed through the exposed concrete grid and large inset windows of the exterior façade. His belief in the importance of integrated landscape and water features is represented by the reflecting pools and plantings present at the entry plaza level.

In 2019 a new ownership group acquired the building, bringing a new name and a dedication to upgrading and maintaining the building to ensure it maintains its rightful place as an architectural icon and premium downtown office building.

Now known as Arthur Erickson Place, the building attracts those who agree with Erickson and see form as important as function and recognize that a building ahead of its time in 1970 is still ahead of its time today.

As per the Lease, rent charges are due on the first day of the month without prior written notice or invoice.

Rental payments

The Landlord utilizes a pre-authorized Electronic Fund Transfer (EFT) program which permits tenants to make rental payments by way of automatic debit from their bank accounts. The enrollment form can be found in the appendices section of this manual. It can be submitted to the Administration Office for activation in person or by email to yulia.tislenok@colliers.com.

Renovations and construction in tenant's premises must be requested in writing for the Property Manager's approval. Please refer to the Tenant Design and Construction Guide for full instructions. If you do not have a copy, you may request a copy of this manual from the Administration Office.

The Construction and Improvements Guide is available to tenants and contains general information, procedures, insurance, and requirements that have been established to assist tenants and their contractors in the design and construction of their improvements within their leased premises and to notify them of the basic design specifications for the building.

Note: There is a possible presence of asbestos containing materials (ACMs) within the building in which your leased premises are located. Prior to any repair or renovation work (or any other activity which may impact base building systems or areas) being conducted, we require you to submit plans and specifications for our approval in accordance with your lease. Please refer to the Construction and Improvements Guide for process specifications.

Building Uniformity

To maintain a professional image, the Landlord desires to retain uniformity of appearance from the exterior of the building. Tenants are responsible for hiring a licensed backflow prevention assembly tester to install and/or perform the annual test of these units located within their premises. Maintenance records of these tests need to be saved and provided upon request.

If you require assistance or information on your existing backflow prevention assemblies, please contact your preferred plumbing contractor for further information.

Although our maintenance staff conduct regular inspections of common area facilities, augmented with checks by contract cleaners and security personnel, we may not be aware of electrical problems within leased premises unless they are reported to us. Please report electrical problems within your leased premises, servicecentre@colliers.com. If the problem is outside the scope of your lease agreement, we can supply you with a list of skilled tradespeople.
